

LNG 106 Academic Listening and Speaking 3(3-0-6)

Prerequisite: LNG 105 Academic English for International Students or at least 50% of the test score (university admission test)

This course aims at developing academic listening and speaking skills necessary for learners in international programs. The teaching and learning styles involve an integration of English with content areas related to the learners' fields. The course aims to enable learners to be able to listen to English lectures in their fields, ask and appropriately respond to questions, share ideas and express opinions, and read and summarize text. Learners will discuss and lead a discussion, make an effective oral presentation, and actively participate in the session.